Understand Your Options

The costs to respond to water contamination may get passed to ratepayers and taxpayers. Instead, the legal process can be used to compel businesses who had profited from products that caused the contamination to pay to clean up their own mess.

What You'll Learn

- Evaluation criteria for legal action.
- Mechanics of a groundwater contamination lawsuit.
- How water utilities are putting law into practice.

About SL

SL Environmental Law Group, PC advocates on behalf of water suppliers addressing contamination caused by defective products. We guide water suppliers and their management through the legal process that can ease the financial burden of treatment.
